

The background of the poster is a religious painting, likely a detail from a larger work, depicting the Virgin Mary with a serene expression, looking down at the Christ Child. The Christ Child is shown in a sleeping position, with a halo and a decorative border around his head. The painting is set against a dark background. Overlaid on the painting is a large, colorful geometric shape, a diamond or rhombus, with a gradient of colors from green at the top to red at the bottom. The text 'vier Kerstmis!' is written across this shape. The word 'vier' is in a large, white, serif font, and 'Kerstmis!' is in a smaller, yellow, cursive font.
